Cleanskins are unbeatable value – top quality for a small price. A terrific Barossa Chardonnay

Aussie Chardonnay – two words that changed the wine world forever back in the 1980s. And they’re still at it. We scooped this terrific Barossa 2013 – an unoaked, fruit laden gem – for a diminutive price, thanks to its Cleanskin label. Don’t miss it.

This beauty is from a renowned Barossa estate, château to be precise, that recently changed hands. The new broom (CEO) wanted a fresh start, so our man on the ground snaffled a couple of hundred cases of this magnificent Chardonnay for an outstanding price. The deal was ‘no mentioning the name’ hence the anonymous label. A ‘cleanskin’ they call it and it disguises an expensive wine – deliberately – to protect the hard-won premium position of the leading wineries who occasionally sell us ‘surplus’ wine at a reduced rate. The winemaker is a bit of a star too – IWSC Winemaker of the Year in 2009, 2011 and 2012. Enjoy its ripe peach and nectarine flavours, zesty freshness and long, mouthwatering finish. With roast chicken and chips – spot on.

Vast open spaces, perpetual sunshine, deep blue skies ... Australia's ingredients for terrifically ripe, great-value wine
